DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oshita (JP 2001018017) in view of Johnson.

Oshita discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for guide grooves or slotted apertures. However, Johnson teaches guide grooves or slotted apertures (e.g. 58 or 78) for the purpose of positively confining the movement of adjustable or locking mounting of the punch. See e.g. Fig. 10. Thus, it would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan at the time of the instant invention to provide the device of Oshita with the grooves or slots as taught and suggested by Johnson in order to facilitate positive confined movement of the cam which adds another means of insuring the desired movement.

Conclusion

4. Janek Jr. and Fidziukiewicz are cited as pertinent art.
